'CHEMTRAIL LAW' PASSED IN 1997

PUBLIC LAW 105-85—NOV. 18, 1997: USE OF HUMAN SUBJECTS
FOR TESTING OF CHEMICAL OR BIOLOGICAL AGENTS

"(1) any test or experiment involving the use of a chemical agent or biological agent on a civilian population; or

(2) any other testing of a chemical agent or biological agent on human subjects.

(e) BIOLOGICAL AGENT DEFINED.—In this section, the term "biological agent" means any micro-organism (including bacteria, viruses, fungi, rickettsiae, or protozoa), pathogen, or infectious substance, and any naturally occurring, bioengineered, or synthesized component of any such micro-organism, pathogen, or infectious substance, whatever its origin or method of production, that is capable of causing—

(1) death, disease, or other biological malfunction in a human, an animal, a plant, or another living organism;

(2) deterioration of food, water, equipment, supplies, or materials of any kind; or

(3) deleterious alteration of the environment" - quote from the law.

This "law" is publicly available for everyone to read, you have been "informed". Because you have not contested it (that's what the courts are for), you have provided your "consent". This law is part of a contract between you and the government. When the terms of a contract are known and uncontested, it's called "acquiescence."

HISTORY OF MICROWAVES

From Weapons to Your WiFi

FREE LECTURE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO WITH

BARRIE TROWER

Physicist & Former British Secret Service Microwave Weapon Specialist

During the Cold War, Barrie Trower's job for the British Secret Service was to debrief spies who were using stealth microwave weapons.

Most notably, the Russians pulsed microwaves at the American Embassy where staff developed leukemia and other sicknesses.

Today, Barrie Trower is shocked to see the proliferation of microwave technologies - WiFi, cell phones, cell towers, and more. THE HISTORY OF MICROWAVES: FROM WEAPONS TO WIFI will give you an understanding of microwave radiation from an Insider who now speaks openly to governments, police, and the public.

Who Are the Authors of the The Georgia Guidestones:

The English version of the Guidelines—The ten guides for a new Age of Reason are as follows:

1. Maintain humanity under 500,000,000 in perpetual balance with nature.
2. Guide reproduction wisely – improving fitness and diversity.
3. Unite humanity with a living new language.
4. Rule passion – faith – tradition – and all things with tempered reason.
5. Protect people and nations with fair laws and just courts.
6. Let all nations rule internally resolving external disputes in a world court.
7. Avoid petty laws and useless officials.
8. Balance personal rights with social duties.
9. Prize truth – beauty – love – seeking harmony with the infinite.
10. Be not a cancer on the earth – Leave room for nature – Leave room for nature.

The Georgia Guidestones, sometimes referred to as the "American Stonehenge," is a granite monument erected in Elbert County, Ga., in 1979. The stones are engraved in eight languages — English, Spanish, Swahili, Hindi, Hebrew, Arabic, Chinese and Russian — each relaying 10 "new" commandments for "an Age of Reason." The stones also line up with certain astronomical features.

@conspiracystory

Though the monument contains no encrypted messages, its purpose and origin remain shrouded in mystery. They were commissioned by a man who has yet to be properly identified, who went by the pseudonym of R.C. Christian.

Of the 10 commandments, the first one is perhaps the most controversial: "Maintain humanity under 500,000,000 in perpetual balance with nature." Many have taken it to be a license to cull the human population down to the specified number, and critics of the stones have called for them to be destroyed. Some conspiracy theorists even believe they may have been designed by a "Luciferian secret society" calling for a new world order.

This amazing photo was given to us by a UFO researcher who prefers to remain anonymous. Dwarfing the dumpster of its left side, the surface of this apparatus is covered with peculiar hieroglyphics that appear similar to characters to ancient Hebrew, Arabic, and Sanskrit.

DIAGRAM SHOWING THE TEN OCTAVES OF INTEGRATING LIGHT, ONE OCTAVE WITHIN THE OTHER. THESE TEN OCTAVES CONSTITUTE ONE COMPLETE CYCLE OF THE TRANSFER OF THE UNIVERSAL CONSTANT OF ENERGY INTO, AND THROUGH, ALL OF ITS DIMENSIONS IN SEQUENCE

Tone 401+ is hydrogen. It is the first + element of the fourth octave. Hydrogen could not exist without its negative reaction which is helionon, 401-. An element of positive charge must have its mate in negative discharge to maintain the equilibrium of this universe of motion. Tone 401+ plus tone 401- equals one unit constant. Seven tones in one octave equal one constant of energy.

The entire ten octave constant cycle is simply an orderly periodic accumulation of the constant of energy into higher power dimension which reaches its maximum at the fifth octave, and a distribution of that accumulation through the succeeding five octaves. Higher power is accumulated time. The deceleration of speed in rotation of mass is the result of generation. Power is generated by resistance to speed of rotation and acceleration of speed of revolution. Power is thus accumulated from low potential of great axial speed to high potential of great orbital speed. Each element is greater in its mass than its predecessor because of the generative power of electricity which acts as a brake against high axial speed and diverts it into accumulating mass. The elements of matter are an orderly and periodic accumulation and redistribution of energy.

FOURTH, FIFTH AND SIXTH OCTAVES. IN THE FOURTH OCTAVE THE SO-CALLED PHYSICAL UNIVERSE BEGINS WITH BUT ONE OF ITS ELEMENTS KNOWN TO MAN. THE ELEMENT HYDROGEN

BUMBLEBEES CAN'T FLY? AERODYNAMICALLY, IT IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR THEM TO ACHIEVE FLIGHT. WHAT BUMBLEBEES ACTUALLY DO IS LEVITATE

BUMBLEBEES HAVE A HOLLOW CAVITY NEXT TO THE LARYNX, AND WHEN THEY BEAT THEIR WINGS, THEY START TO RESONATE ENERGY WITHIN THIS CAVITY. ONCE THAT RESONANCE MATCHES THE 7.83Hz RESONANCE OF THE MAGNETIC FIELD (EARTH'S RESONANCY) IT BECOMES A FREE-AGENT, ENCOMPASSED IN AN ELECTROMAGNETIC ENVELOPE AND LEVITATES FROM FLOWER TO FLOWER

The "CREATED" universe of matter is the result of concentration of Mind upon the idea of form and then the generation of power by diverting low potential into centripetal vortices in order to hold the idea of Mind into the appearance of form until form disappears through mental decentration

The universe of matter is a registration of the energy expended by Mind in the effort of thinking. The exact energy of the action of thinking is registered in the electro-positive charging systems, and the reaction of the action is registered in the electro-negative discharging systems. The charging systems are electrically dominated, centripetally closing, contracting systems. The discharging systems are magnetically dominated, centrifugally opening, expanding systems. The low potential speed-time dimension of energy of the highest octave is gradually accumulated into the high potential power-time dimension of the fifth octave. When these two opposing dimensions equalize in the tenth octave the cycle is completed and begins again.

se et qui ont été détectés récemment à la surface de Mars.

Le plus spectaculaire concerne les preuves matérielles qui ont pu être rapportées sous la forme des photos stupéfiantes de Saturne et de ses anneaux, réalisées sous divers angles par les sondes américaines Voyager 1 et Voyager 2. Sur les clichés et les films transmis à la Terre par ces deux stations automatiques, apparaissent très nettement d'énormes cités volantes qui semblent être encore contrôlées... intelligemment. Il est même possible d'y distinguer de multiples sources lumineuses.

Des données techniques d'un intérêt considérable ont bien été publiées, dès les années 80, à l'issue des missions spatiales des Voyager 1 et 2, d'après certains résultats obtenus par leurs struments de bord. Mais la NASA a également préservé le secret pendant plus de quinze ans à propos des documents analysés au moyen d'un microscope à enregistreur et à l'œil lumineux. Là sont apparus des gigantesques appareils spatiaux saturniens, étrangement inhabituels dans leur apparence et leurs dimensions colossales.

relatifs à l'espace qualifiés de « non hostiles ».

Or, des engins de cette taille, ont estimé les responsables de la NASA – qui peuvent se tromper lourdement, en l'occurrence –, ne peuvent qu'être considérés comme « hostiles ». Et, à ce titre, leur existence ne devrait et n'aurait pas dû être révélée. Une cinquan-

En face de ces monuments de l'espace, indéniables preuves d'une super-intelligence extraterrestre, les scientifiques américains ont préféré respecter « l'acte de l'Espace » signé en 1958 au plan mondial. Ce traité stipule que « le public ne doit être informé que de faits taine d'initiés ont alors été fermement invités à garder le silence. Depuis, quinze années se sont écoulées et une autre philosophie est née chez certains de ces scientifiques qui se sont décidés à parler.

En publiant son ouvrage, Les An-

... et leurs descendants, nos lointains cousins, surveilleraient notre planète depuis trois gigantesques astronefs basés dans la banlieue céleste de Saturne neaux de Saturne (non encore été édité en France), le docteur Norman R. Bergman a choisi de mettre un terme au secret, plaçant ainsi sous un nouvel éclairage l'irritant mystère des « soucoupes volantes ». Il répond aussi à certaines questions fondamentales posées par l'Union européenne des chercheurs pour le Droit de savoir », coordonnée depuis Villeneuve-Loubet, près de Nice, par Claude Chapeau, un ancien chercheur du CNRS.

Porte-parole de cette association qui collecte en temps réel sur Internet et Compuserve des informations en provenance du monde entier, l'écrivain ufologue niçois Guy Tarade analyse diverses hypothèses à propos de ces planétoides géants qui servent sans doute de bases aux ovnis surgissant de plus en plus fréquemment dans le ciel terrestre.

« Que se passerait-il si une de ces gigantesques « îles volantes » quittait le voisinage de Saturne pour venir se mettre en orbite autour de notre planète ? »

Pas de doute : une terrible panique s'emparerait des populations, confrontées par voie de conséquence à des cataclysmes ne laissant que peu de chances de survie à l'espèce humaine !

Mais fort heureusement, tel ne semble pas devoir être notre très proche avenir. Même si certaines prophéties laissent présager une apocalypse, prédisant elle-même un renouveau pastoral pour l'humanité (*). On pense notamment au fameux quatrain de Nostradamus, celui qui annonce l'arrivée d'un « Grand Roy d'Elfroyer » appelé à se manifester avec son cortège de catastrophes à la date fatidique du 28 juillet 1999.

D'autres pensent, tout au contraire, que l'aube du troisième millénaire pourrait bien marquer un tournant positif pour les hommes, établissant enfin des contacts pacifiques et richissimes en enseignements avec des « para-terrestres ». Des êtres issus d'une race humaine exilée depuis des déluges millénaires sur d'autres planètes et de retour pour guider à temps l'humanité contemporaine vers d'autres valeurs. Comme pour répondre à Gérard de Nerval, poète visionnaire qui annonçait : « Ils reviendront ces dieux que tu pleures depuis toujours. Le temps va ramener l'ordre des anciens jours... »

(*) Le Grand Monarque. La dernière prophétie de Nostradamus, par Guy Tarade.

5: Efflux from along the length of a slender body, exhausting at both ends, generates the A-ring.

□ Cette découverte est tellement importante que la NASA avait préféré la tenir secrète : trois gigantesques vaisseaux spatiaux auraient été repérés dans les anneaux de Saturne, de l'autre côté de notre système solaire ! L'un de ces astronefs a un diamètre voisin de celui de la Terre et un autre mesure plus de cinquante mille kilomètres de long. De plus, le ballet des ovnis serait géré depuis ces mégastations de l'espace par des « para-terrestres », prêts à nous venir en aide.

MISES à jour aux Etats-Unis par deux éminents scientifiques - le docteur Walter Vincenti, professeur d'aéronautique et d'astronautique à l'université de Stanford, et le docteur Norman R. Bergman, auteur du livre Ringmakers of Saturn -, les révélations d'une présence d'engins volants autour de Saturne sont pour le moins troublantes. Et de penser que l'impressionnante mise en scène du film Independence Day est encore bien en deçà d'une réalité sans doute suspendue dans l'espace saturnien depuis des millions d'années.

On a, certes, du mal à imaginer que de tels continents artificiels flottent dans la banlieue céleste de Saturne. D'immenses planétoïdes conçus à l'évidence par des êtres dont le savoir technologique dépasse de très loin les actuelles connaissances humaines.

« Para-terrestres »

Cela rejoint la thèse soutenue par le professeur Gérard Demarcq, professeur honoraire de géologie et de paléontologie à l'université de Lyon, qui s'apprête à publier un ouvrage intitulé La Terre, origine des extraterrestres : la théorie des para-terrestres. D'après lui, ces para-terrestres ne seraient autres que « grands ancêtres de l'homme » et les descendants d'une ancienne civilisation très avancée dans le domaine de la technologie spatiale. Le professeur Demarcq estime qu'« il est tout à fait concevable que, voilà une trentaine de milliers d'années, ait pu se développer une lignée humaine intellectuellement très avancée ».

Au lieu de s'orienter, comme les hommes préhistoriques, vers l'utilisation des énergies et des matériaux terrestres, ils se seraient immédiatement intéressés à la physique. Notamment aux forces électro-magnétiques et gravitationnelle. C'est ce qui les aurait conduits, avec la découverte de la propulsion magnéto-hydro-dynamique, vers la construction de vaisseaux spatiaux ultra-performants.

On trouve ainsi une explication aux nombreux dessins rupestres pré-colombiens, datés de plus de seize mille ans et représentant des personnages avec leurs combinaisons spatiales et descendant d'engins semblant provenir de l'espace.

Au moment d'un déluge résultant d'une fonte planétaire des glaces, il y a Ces dessins rupestres pré-colombiens, datant de seize mille ans et représentant des personnages avec des combinaisons spatiales et des engins interplanétaires, tendraient à démontrer que l'existence des extra-terrestres était déjà connue à cette époque.

treize mille ans, ces visiteurs « para-terrestres », contraints de déménager leurs bases au sol, auraient pu s'enfuir à bord de véritables arches de Noé volantes, semblables aux astéroïdes qui flottent encore aujourd'hui dans les anneaux de Saturne.

Ils auraient aussi pu créer d'autres bases sur diverses planètes et y laisser des traces aussi étonnantes que des vestiges de sphinx et de pyramides, certains points semblables à ceux de Ghি-

Photo analysis aside, Korff and other skeptics have suggested that the UFOs in Meier's photos are simply models. It was not extraordinary in the pre-Photoshop days of the 1970s for someone to hoax a UFO photo by photographing models, Frisbees, hubcaps, and other physical objects. And while some Meier supporters are quick to contend that it would be impossible for a one-armed man to stage UFO photos, Meier himself admits to taking pictures of UFO models. Burned photos of these models were allegedly found in Meier's trash can by Martin Sorge, who at one time was Meier's friend. As with many details of the Meier story, there are divergent accounts of this incident. While some accounts claim that Meier's children created models of the UFOs, other accounts credit Meier with creating the models. In UFO... Contact from the Pleiades, Stevens explains, "When I asked about the models of the spaceships he readily admitted trying to model them even though they did not come out well. He even tried photographing the models and the result was so bad that he threw the pictures away."

But a different account is presented by Guido Moosbrugger in And Yet... They Fly!:

One day in 1975, Semjase loaned Billy a model of her spaceship for a short period to take a few pictures of it and then be returned. On the basis of these snapshots, Billy planned to construct his own model spacecraft, but this plan never came to fruition. A serious mishap occurred to the negatives of these model photographs—they slipped off the office tabletop into a wastepaper basket and were not found until after the entire contents had landed in a fireplace. Kalliope, Billy's wife, discovered the more or less burned negatives in the ashes and handed them over to one of the group members to be restored, if possible.

It is interesting to note that Billy and Kalliope divorced, and she has since stated in interviews with Korff and Swiss UFO researcher and author Luc Burgin that Meier hoaxed his UFO photos and fabricated the tales of extraterrestrial encounters. However, this contradicts her previous statements that Meier's contacts were real and that she, herself, witnessed events with Billy.

Select Meier photos have received far more skepticism than others. Among those are photos that Meier allegedly took during his travels through space and time with the extraterrestrials. Some of these photos show dinosaurs that Meier allegedly took on the planet Neber. But some researchers, like the Independent Investigations Group, contend that the dinosaurs in these photos are simply illustrations from a book that was published in 1972 titled Life Before Man, which was written by Zdenek V. Spinak. The illustrated dinosaurs in this book do appear to be identical to the dinosaurs in the Meier photos.

Another highly criticized set of photos purports to show Asket and Nera aboard a beamship. The women in these photos have been identified as Michelle DellaFave and Susan Lund, who were members of the Goldiggers—a singing and dancing troupe that appeared on the Dean Martin Variety Show. According to a letter posted to the FIGU website by Meier in May 1998, the extraterrestrial Ptaah informed Meier that the photographs of Asket and Nera were actually of their American doubles. Meier went on to explain that the "Men in Black" had intercepted his film, found look-alikes for Asket and Nera, took pictures of them, and substituted these false images for the originals of the Asket/Nera photos. And, he claims the "Men in Black" performed this same trickery with most of his early photos.

One lesser-known Meier photo shows Meier standing in the middle of what appears to be a ring of fiery light. This picture appears in Moosbrugger's book, And Yet... They Fly!, and is explained to be an "energy belt" of "burning static electricity" emanating from Quetzal's ship above Meier, which does not appear in the photo. Meier's arm is extended over his head in the photo, allegedly holding a microphone to record the sound of Quetzal's ship. Multiple researchers have pointed out that the ring of fire

Aside from his photographs, Meier furnishes other evidence to corroborate his claims of extraterrestrial contact, including metal samples, and even an extraterrestrial weapon. Meier gave these metal samples to Stevens, and Stevens had these samples tested by various labs. According to Stevens, tests showed that the elements in the samples were "put together in a very unusual way from normal Earth technology," and that most of the elements studied showed "un-Earthly characteristics." Dr. Marcel Vogel, a chemist, performed several tests on the metals. But according to Kal Korff, Dr. Vogel says the claims made in Stevens' book contradict his opinions.

Independent Investigations Group (IIG) is a group dedicated to investigating paranormal claims. In fact, on their website, www.iigwest.com, IIG offers "$50,000 to anyone who can prove paranormal abilities under scientific testing conditions," and states that, "Of those who have completed a test, not a single one has yet demonstrated any paranormal powers." Notably, IIG has paid particular attention to the Billy Meier UFO case and describes in its online reports how Meier's evidence "can be created by non-extraterrestrial means."

In its investigations, IIG has specifically recreated many of the UFOs that appear in Meier's photographs, using common household items from the time period of Meier's photographs, such as storage container lids, Christmas ornaments, food platters, and pressure cooker lids. In an attempt to debunk Meier's theories and show how a one-armed man during pre-Photoshop days could create photographs of saucer-shaped objects in the sky, IIG demonstrates how clear fishing line on a pole and creative photography can create the image of a UFO in the sky. IIG's ability to mimic Meier's photos, however, does not necessarily prove that Meier's photos are fakes.

In response to the debunking of one of Meier's most controversial photos known as the "Wedding Cake UFO," Michael Horn, the proclaimed "Authorized American Media Representative for the Billy Meier Contacts," provides an argument as to why the photo is real on his website, www.thefly.com. In defense of Meier's photographs, Horn provides various photographs showing how certain camera and focus angles are impossible to recreate, and contends that this demonstrates that Meier's photos are real. Horn also says there are many unanswered questions that skeptics would have to address in order to substantiate their accusations, such as, "Where was the model made and concealed?"; "Who in Meier's area possesses the specialized skills required for this precision level of manufacture, at any size?"; "How [were the models] suspended at 30 [feet] by a one-armed man"; and "Why hasn't [anyone] come forward to show that they made and/or now have [the models]?"

IIG posted on its website an alleged email correspondence between representatives of IIG and Horn regarding the Meier case. From the looks of it, the debate between IIG and Horn will surely continue, as will the debate between the Meier believers and skeptics alike.

Pterocarpus angolensis, or wild teak, looks like a perfectly normal tree until it's wounded. When you cut into it, it dribbles long trails of dark red liquid down its trunk. For this reason, wild teak has come to be known as bloodwood.

This phenomenon is caused by tannin, a naturally occurring polyphenol found in plants, seed, bark, wood, leaves, and fruit skins. Regular plants typically contain about 12-20% tannin - wild teak sap contains about 77%.

Phil Schneider
April 23, 1947 - January 17, 1996

Phil Schneider came forward in May 1995 to divulge secret underground bases/cities he helped engineer. He also disclosed the existence of Aliens within these underground "Subtropolis" as he describes them and the 2 large Grey Aliens he killed. Shortly after Phil announced he would reveal deeper plans for the New World Order...he was mysteriously killed.

These Air Force Underground Boring Machines are nuclear-powered and can tunnel through solid rock at a speed of 10mph and tunnel 7 miles in one day.

Phil Schneider acknowledges over 50 underground bases that are several stories deep and go on for miles. These underground cities are designed to sustain millions of people for several years.

Moon Fuel or Moonshine for Reactors

The moon is 'so rich' in helium 3, that this could 'solve humanity's energy demand for 10,000 years at least.'

HELIUM-3

- An ideal candidate fuel for nuclear fusion.
- Formed in the Sun and carried through space on solar winds, helium-3 is extremely rare on Earth.
- Helium 3 is a light, non-radioactive isotope of helium with two protons and one neutron.
